Sec. 401. Annual report.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

- 7 Congress finds the following:
- 8 (1) The Socialist Republic of Vietnam is a one-
- 9 party State, ruled and controlled by the Communist
- 10 Party of Vietnam (CPV), which continues to deny
- the right of citizens to change their government. Al-
- though in recent years the National Assembly of
- 13 Vietnam has played an increasingly active role as a
- forum for highlighting local concerns, corruption,
- and inefficiency, the National Assembly remains sub-
- ject to CPV direction. The CPV maintains control

- over the selection of candidates in national and local elections.
 - (2) The Government of Vietnam permits no public challenge to the legitimacy of the one-party State. It prohibits independent political, labor, and social organizations, and it continues to detain and imprison persons for the peaceful expression of dissenting religious and political views, including Pham Hong Son, Tran Dung Tien, Father Nguyen Van Ly, Dr. Nguyen Dan Que, Nguyen Vu Binh, Pham Que Duong, and Pastor Nguyen Hong Quang, among others.
 - (3) The Government of Vietnam continues to commit serious human rights abuses. In January 2004, the Department of State reported to Congress that during the previous year the Government of Vietnam had made "no progress" toward releasing political and religious activists, ending official restrictions on religious activity, or respecting the rights of indigenous minorities in the Central and Northern Highlands of Vietnam.
 - (4)(A) The Government of Vietnam limits freedom of religion and restricts the operation of religious organizations other than those approved by the State. While officially sanctioned religious organiza- tions are able to operate with varying degrees of autonomy, some of those organizations continue to face restrictions on selecting, training, and ordaining sufficient numbers of clergy and in conducting educational and charitable activities. The Government has previously confiscated numerous churches, temples, and other properties belonging to religious organizations, most of which have never been returned.

 - (B) Unregistered ethnic minority Protestant congregations in the Northwest and Central Highlands of Vietnam suffer severe abuses, which have included forced renunciations of faith, the closure and destruction of churches, the arrest and harassment of pastors, and, in a few cases, there have been credible reports that minority religious leaders have been beaten and killed.
 - (C) The Unified Buddhist Church of Vietnam (UBCV), one of the largest religious denominations in Vietnam, was declared illegal in 1981. The Government of Vietnam confiscated its temples and persecuted its clergy for refusing to join the state-sponsored Buddhist organizations. For more than 2 decades, the Government has detained and confined senior UBCV clergy, including the Most Venerable

- Thich Huyen Quang, the Most Venerable Thich
 Quang Do, the Venerable Thich Tue Sy, and others.
- 3 (D) The Catholic Church continues to face significant restrictions on the training and ordination 5 of priests and bishops, resulting in numbers insuffi-6 cient to support the growing Catholic population in 7 Vietnam. Although recent years have brought a 8 modest easing of government control in some dio-9 ceses, officials in other areas strictly limit the con-10 duct of religious education classes and charitable ac-11 tivities. Father Thaddeus Nguyen Van Ly, who was 12 convicted in a closed trial in 2001 after publicly 13 criticizing religious repression by the Government of 14 Vietnam, remains in prison.
 - (E) The Government of Vietnam continues to suppress the activities of other religious adherents, including Cao Dai, Baha'i, and Hoa Hao who lack official recognition or have chosen not to affiliate with the State-sanctioned groups, including through the use of detention and imprisonment.
 - (5) The Government of Vietnam significantly restricts the freedoms of speech and the press, particularly with respect to political and religious speech. Government and Party-related organizations control all print and electronic media, including ac- cess to the Internet. The Government blocks web sites that it deems politically or culturally inappropriate, and it jams some foreign radio stations, including Radio Free Asia. The Government has detained, convicted, and imprisoned individuals who have posted or sent democracy-related materials via the Internet.

 - (6)(A) Indigenous Montagnards in the Central Highlands of Vietnam continue to face significant repression. The Government of Vietnam restricts the practice of Christianity by those populations, and more than 100 Montagnards have been sentenced to prison terms of up to 13 years for claiming land rights, organizing Christian gatherings, or attempting to seek asylum in Cambodia.
 - (B) The Government of Vietnam uses the separatist agenda of a relatively small number of ethnic minority leaders as a rationale for violating civil and political rights in ethnic minority regions.
 - (C) The Government of Vietnam arrested or detained nearly 300 Montagnards during 2003 and since then many hundreds of Montagnards have gone into hiding, fearing arrest, interrogation, or physical abuse by government authorities.

- 1 (D) During Easter weekend in April 2004, 2 thousands of Montagnards gathered to protest their 3 treatment by the Government of Vietnam, including 4 the confiscation of tribal lands and ongoing restric-5 tions on religious activities. Credible reports indicate 6 that the protests were met with a violent response 7 and that many demonstrators were arrested, injured, 8 or are in hiding, and that others were killed.
 - (E) Government officials continue to restrict access to the Central and Northwest Highlands of Vietnam by diplomats, nongovernmental organizations, journalists, and other foreigners, making it difficult to verify conditions in those areas.
 - (7)(A) United States refugee resettlement programs for Vietnamese nationals, including the Orderly Departure Program (ODP), the Resettlement Opportunities for Returning Vietnamese (ROVR) program, the Priority One (P1) program and the resettlement of boat people from refugee camps throughout Southeast Asia, were authorized by law in order to rescue Vietnamese nationals who have suffered persecution on account of their wartime associations with the United States, as well as those who currently have a well-founded fear of persecu-

- tion on account of race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group.
 - (B) While those programs have served their purposes well, a significant number of eligible refugees were unfairly denied or excluded, in some cases by vindictive or corrupt Vietnamese officials who controlled access to the programs, and in others by United States personnel who imposed unduly restrictive interpretations of program criteria.
 - (C) The Department of State has agreed to extend the September 30, 1994, registration deadline for former United States employees, "re-education" survivors, and surviving spouses of those who did not survive "re-education" camps to sign up for United States refugee programs, as well as to resume the Vietnamese In-Country Priority One Program in Vietnam to provide protection to victims of persecution on account of race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group who otherwise have no access to the Orderly Departure Program.
 - (D) The former U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service agreed to resume the processing of former United States employees under the U11 program, which had been unilaterally suspended by the - United States Government, as well as to review the applications of Amerasians, children of American servicemen left behind in Vietnam after the war ended in April 1975, for resettlement to the United States under the Amerasian Homecoming Act of

- 6 1988.
- 7 (8) Congress and people of the United States 8 are united in their determination that the expansion 9 of relations with Vietnam, a country whose govern-10 ment engages in serious violations of fundamental 11 human rights, should not be construed as approval 12 of or complacency about such practices. The pro-13 motion of freedom and democracy around the world 14 is and must continue to be a central objective of 15 United States foreign policy. Congress remains will-16 ing and hopeful to recognize improvement in the fu-17 ture human rights practices of the Government of 18 Vietnam, which is the motivating purpose behind 19 this Act.
